Ann's Story.....

"George was my life, we did everything together, both work and pleasure. He was my best friend and a great father.

Following the diagnosis of cancer he bravely fought and eventually came to terms with his diagnosis but always stressed that he wanted to stay at home until the end.

The family and I tried to cope and honour this wish but 24-hour care was taking its toll. He went into the hospice a broken man but with the care and understanding given by staff it was like a light had been given to us all and George's sparkle and charm returned.

The staff and volunteers became an extended family. They were there to care for George, medically and emotionally; providing a feeling of homeliness and not one bit clinical.

The staff cared for the family providing much needed advice and support. Our fears were alleviated and the time we had left with George became special with both laughter and tears.

Without this support and special environment the memories would have been tainted and not special."

How we make a difference.....

Wakefield Hospice is based upon the simple idea that a dying patient is a living person, someone who deserves peace and calm until the end of their life. We seek to add life to days even when days cannot be added to life and ensure that the concerns and grief of family and friends are met both before and after the patient passes away.

Our dedicated staff work around the clock every day of the year to offer comfort and support by relieving symptoms and pain but they also go the extra mile to ensure the above philosophy is a reality.

Hospice care is free of charge to patients who have been assessed as in need of specialist palliative care

Wakefield Hospice is proud to offer all of its services free of charge to patients and their families. However, to continue offering these services, we must raise £7220 per day.

No matter what you can afford, every penny counts and is used to benefit the patients and their relatives.

80p of every £1 donated is spent on patient care

Regular Giving is the most cost effective way to support Wakefield Hospice

1. You can donate any amount to suit your lifestyle

You choose how much and how often you would like to give. By donating this way you can 'spread the load'; a small gift taken out of your bank account each month is a painless way to give!

2. You make a long term impact

Regular planned donations provide Wakefield Hospice with a sustainable, reliable and long term income which helps us to plan how to allocate our resources more efficiently, allowing us a more cost effective development of the services we offer.

3. It's quick and easy

You only have to fill in the form once and the effects will last for a long time to come. Just fill in the form overleaf to give us permission for a regular donation to come out of your bank account until you decide otherwise.

4. The administration costs are low

Giving a regular automated payment through your bank saves Wakefield Hospice money by cutting our administration costs and saving time and paperwork. Every penny saved this way means more of your money can go directly to patient care where it is needed most.

5. Tax relief means your donation is worth ¼ more, without any extra cost to you

Wakefield Hospice can increase the value of your donation by reclaiming the basic rate of tax on your gift. If you are a UK tax-payer we need your permission to claim Gift Aid which will increase your donation by 25p for every £1 donated at no additional cost to you. For donations between 6 April 2008 and 5 April 2011 Wakefield Hospice will also get a separate government supplement of 3p on every pound you give.

By taking a couple of minutes to complete and send us this form, you will be making a real difference to the life of a family near you.
